

Hearing Spirit Attachment Voices Through the Electric Heater Noise

-by B. Edwards

It's fourteen minutes to midnight It's five days till Christmas it's cold as hell out tonight twenty degrees I'd guess I've got three electric heaters going because my main gas heater is down it's sufficient for the heat though just barely tonight though it's the noise it's the noise that is getting to me that fan noise it brings out the presence of these voices these spirit attachment voices the steady fan noise gives strength to the voices it seems like there's a while crowd with me here right now in this room and maybe there is I can't see them but I can hear them I can hear them talking right now I can hear them saying my name right now and hearing them through the noise like this this is not a new occurrence this has been happening since my spirit attachment situation began after I made the mistake of channeling spirits I've heard these voices through all kinds of sounds.....noises it seems to happen around the steady noises the most I've got no choice but to tough it out tonight turning off these electric heaters is not even an option I'd rather put up with them than freeze my ass off it's just one of those situations where you're stuck with two choices and neither of them are any good but I can't stand the cold so I'll just have to fall asleep here shortly surrounded by this invisible crowd
